Dear Vladimir Vasilevich!

From the end of 2008 till the present Insist Avtomatika LLC has been developing and implementing technological information control system (TICS) at the facilities of TNK-Uvat LLC. This system is designed to consolidate, handle and store data received from control centers, form reports and transfer them to operations staff and heads of operating departments of TNK-Uvat LLC. Specialists of your Company have carried out tough work on organization of informational support of production control at the fields of Eastern Uvat, integration of data handling automated systems of other development centers controlled by TNK-Uvat LLC, development of a single information platform to solve functional problems of TNK-Uvat on the basis of TICS.

I am sure that developed solutions will allow our company to take the next step on its way of modernization of our production, decreasing of costs and increasing effectiveness.

We hope for effective cooperation.

Director-General
